

Honeywell invites you to join us at our latest roadshows: MAXPRO IP Video – from Entry to Enterprise

Whether you are new to IP Video or are specifying and designing small or large systems, these FREE half day sessions will:

- Demonstrate how entry level to large scale installation needs can be easily met with just one platform, saving time and money
- Illustrate how Honeywell can help you to cost effectively migrate from analogue and quickly expand existing systems
- Enhance your proposition with MAXPRO to include the latest technologies, such as Cloud, to open new revenue opportunities
- Give you an opportunity to talk to our experts about current projects and installations
