Product Discontinuation Notice - Hochiki® SD

In our continuing effort to improve delivery performance and simplify our portfolio, Farenhyt has decided to discontinue the Hochiki SD product line. Please reference the chart below for specific models being discontinued.

The Hochiki SD product line does not have an exact drop-in device type replacement; however, the fire alarm control panels (FACP) are capable of operating in Farenhyt IDP protocols. Existing sites can replace all Hochiki SD devices with Farenhyt IDP devices to continue using the existing panel.

Honeywell will take a phased approach to the product end-of-life to allow customers time to transition installed systems to other products. Additionally, the Hochiki SD photoelectric detectors are only listed to UL268 6th edition; this timing will ensure the conversion is complete well before the UL268 7th edition 2024 effectivity date. The product line will be fully discontinued on December 31, 2023. Please place any orders for these products on or before mid-November to ensure product availability. We will make every effort to fulfill all orders; however, this will be first-come, first-serve, and while supplies last.

If you have any questions, please contact your Regional Sales Manager or Farenhyt Technical Service at 1-800-866-1456 or sk.technicalsupport@honeywell.com.

Thank you,
