IDP Ivory Detector Last Time Buy & Discontinuation

Due to reduced demand, Honeywell will fully discontinue the Farenhyt IDP ivory color models to standardize our offering and focus our production on the higher volume IDP Bright White models.

We will continue to offer color kits in ivory, bright white, and black if you require ivory color to match a legacy detector/base install. These kits are available in packs of 10 units and require separating the detector housing and snapping the new color kit together. Farenhyt will continue to offer a full line of Bright White detectors (-W models) with IDP.
