

elegant, flexible, wire-free!

The new Domonial wireless alarm system offers first class security for your home and business Protect what matters most to you with Honeywell's innovative new Domonial wireless alarm system. Domonial provides a high level of security, while blending in beautifully with your home or office decor. The elegantly-designed and compact Domonial keypad can be conveniently placed on a wall or carried about as a hand-held remote control device and used anywhere in the house or building. It's exceptionally easy to use, with its large informative LCD display and its intuitive operation – simply enter your user code or conveniently pass your personal tag over the keypad. A complete range of compatible peripherals is available. Honeywell's network of professional security installers can provide you with an appropriate Domonial security solution to suit your specific needs.

Honeywell

To receive a free information pack, contact Honeywell Security on freephone 0800 4968844 and quote "Secure Times", or visit www.honeywell.com/security/times

© 2006 Honeywell International Inc. All rights reserved.