

A seamless security solution integrating access control with intrusion and video

Being able to connect Honeywell Pro-Watch access control software with Honeywell Galaxy Dimension intrusion panels offers you a simple way to enhance the security at your sites.

Altogether Better

The single software user-interface provides a simple, robust platform with increased functionality. Functions that have traditionally been connected together via physical relays and input devices can now be controlled logically. This simplicity gives you greater control over your systems when compared to using multiple software platforms and interfaces.

The integration of Pro-Watch with Galaxy Dimension simplifies the access process by allowing users to arm or disarm selected zones using their regular access control credential. Using Pro-Watch, automated interactions between the individual systems enable greater functionality and ease of use for operators. The Pro-Watch integration with the Galaxy Dimension alarm control functions provides an enhanced and effective alarm response.

In addition, if you also integrate with Honeywell Pro-Watch Video Manager, you are able to retrieve instant video playback of access or intrusion events from any of your sites.

Key Integration Features:

- Programme Galaxy Dimension panels via automated uploads
- Arm/Disarm permissions selectable by any access control credential in Pro-Watch
- Full Galaxy panel condition and status control from Pro-Watch alarm monitor
- Centralised alarm response and follow-up coordinated from Pro-Watch alarm monitor
- Full interaction with all other attached Pro-Watch logical devices
- Galaxy logical device control is equal to all other Pro-Watch components
- Live system control
 - Arm/disarm
 - Multiple partition control
 - Bypass/un-bypass doors

BENEFITS

- Save time and money
- An enhanced and effective alarm response
- Grows with you as your needs change
- Allows users to arm or disarm selected zones using their regular access control credential

Pro-Watch® with Galaxy® Dimension

Key Integration Benefits

- Save time and money by managing separate systems with one easy-to-use software interface
- Improve the level of security by eliminating user code sharing. A privileged credential can disarm a system and grant access at the door
- The integration of Pro-Watch and Galaxy to Honeywell's video platforms facilitates easy identification, retrieval and playback of events and alarms. Access or intrusion events can be used to trigger cameras or recordings, and you can easily retrieve video playback of access or intrusion events directly within Pro-Watch
- Automated reporting allows you to send up-to-date reports on intrusion and access events hourly, daily, weekly or monthly
- Reduce employee down-time by only requiring training on one system
- Align Pro-Watch and Galaxy Dimension integration with existing system needs for an added level of security
- Expand to meet current and future needs. Start with access and add video or intrusion later as requirements change
