OverviewKey Features

Polyester webbing harnesses are heavy duty, yet lightweight and suited to many varied applications. Polyester harnesses are available in a range of configurations to suit many working applications and environments. Bright colours help to increase the visibility of the harness, enabling better visual worker compliance and easier inspection of harnesses. Shoulder and leg webbing straps are different colour for ease of donning. Manufactured from heavy duty and lightweight polyester webbing, strength is increased without compromising the users comfort. The polyester webbing also offers users excellent UV and strong chemical resistance. Incorporating innovative sewing patterns, polyester harnesses maintain their flexibility long term. The new self-contained label pack allows important information to be kept legible and safe.
